Special pads for the embedding of biopsies and small anatomical specimens, to hold them in place and prevent lost during processing.

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

Polyurethane foam guarantees high solvents resistance and its structure with open cells allows fluids (alcohols, solvents and paraffin) to transfer safely through the tissue during the processing.

Filters can be autoclaved (max. Temperature: 134°C). For sterilization, it is enough a temperature of 121°C.

Filters are packed in hermetic plastic bags, to maintain them clean and intact until the use.
